Dear Madams/Sirs,

My name is [redacted] In the period May 2006 – 2010 I worked as a waitress on PRINCESS CRUISES passenger vessels. I had to take very hard tests before the ship owner: theory tests, swimming skills tests, and also psychological tests. Working on oceans and seas is only for the brave. The employment contract on a vessel lasts 6 months. Each person working on a vessel undergoes various emergency and life-saving training courses. Powerful storms are frequent. It can be very dangerous. A person who is afraid of water, or cannot swim may not work onboard vessels and will not pass the tests necessary for the job.

A few days ago there was a programme on the Uwaga! TVN television show, devoted to Ms Marta Herda, who was serving a life sentence because 4 years ago she had driven her speeding car - with her work colleague Osaba Orsas inside - into a river. Before the accident they had both worked as waiters in a luxurious hotel in Ireland. Marta Herda of Arklow was found guilty of killing her friend Osaba. Allegedly, she deliberately drove her car into water because the boy couldn't swim. It was her goal to kill the boy from Hungary.

However, I think different. I believe that the boy Osaba had to know how to swim! Osaba Orsas used to work with me on the Princess Cruises vessels. On the photo that was shown on TV there was a man on a vessel wearing restaurant uniform, and he had a name tag of a Princess Cruises vessel's employee. I recognized the boy on the photo immediately. He used to work with me on the same vessel. He had to have the swimming skills! I believe that Ms Marta Herda is innocent. I believe it was an unfortunate accident!
